Subject: [EXTERNAL] Charge for the notarial act
Date: Tuesday, December 19, 2023 1:24:23 PM

After hearing today's hearing, the people who were present and that spoke on the charges they charge for a notarial act is surprising to me.

I had not heard a notary could charge for travel expenses and any other additional charges that they seem to justify the need to charge for being a notary and performing the notarial act.

This isn't even concerning the documents that need to be notarized. What kind of document over rides another document and can be justified to charge more than another?

IF it is prohibited to charge more than $15 per notarization under RULONA, how is it that people have made it a business of theirs to perform a notarial act, charge for travel expenses, and makeup a charge for $50 for the first document and $15 for additional documents that need notarized? So how much is too much to charge for the service of the notarial act.

This is concerning to me, that is a lot of money for performing the service of the notarial act.
