SENATE RULES

TOGETHER WITH THE

JOINT RULES

Governing the House and Senate and a List of the Standing Committees of the Senate of the Eighteenth
General Assembly

COLORADO

Rules of the Senate.

Rule I.—Of Calling to Order.

1. The stated hour of meeting, unless otherwise ordered, shall be 10 o'clock in the morning of each day.
2. The President (ex-officio the Lieutenant Governor), or, in his absence, the President pro tem., shall take the chair every day, promptly at the hour to which the Senate stands adjourned; shall call the Senate to order, and on the appearance of a quorum shall proceed to business.
3. The stated hour for the convening of the Senate having arrived, and the President and President pro tem. being absent, the eldest senior Senator present shall call the Senate to order, and shall preside until an active President shall have been elected, which election shall be the first business of the Senate.

Rule II.—Of the Acting President.

1. An acting President when elected shall continue to preside, with all the powers and privileges of the President, except that of signing bills and joint resolutions, until the President, or President pro tem. shall appear within the bar of the Senate, when he shall surrender the chair.

Rule III.—Of a Quorum.

1. A majority of all the Senators elected shall constitute a quorum; and whenever a less number than a quorum shall convene at a regular meeting and shall adjourn, the names of those present shall be entered on the journal.
2. Whenever a less number than a quorum shall convene at any regular meeting, they are empowered to send the Sergeant-at-Arms or any other person or persons, by them authorized, for any or all absent Senators; and the actual expense incurred thereby in each case shall be paid by the absentees, respectively, unless for a good and sufficient reason, they have been, or may be, excused by the Senate.

Rule IV.—Order of Business.

1. The Senate having been called to order at the hour to which it shall have adjourned, and a quorum being present, and after prayer by the Chaplain, the first order of business shall be the reading of the journal of the preceding day, to the end that any mistakes therein may be corrected, and the journal approved.

2. After the reading and approval of the journal, the order of business shall be as follows:

- First—Presentation of petitions and memorials.
- Second—Introduction of resolutions.
- Third—Introduction of bills. First reading—by title.
- Fourth—Reports of standing committees.
- Fifth—Reports of special committees.
- Sixth—Consideration of resolutions.
- Seventh—Third reading of bills.
- Eighth—Messages from the House of Representatives.
- Ninth—Communications from state officers.
- Tenth—Messages from the Governor.
- Eleventh—General orders.

3. No bill shall be made a special order without special order has been authorized by the affirmative vote of majority of all members elect; and in discussion of a motion to make a special order, which motion shall include only one bill, for which no other bill shall be substituted, no Senator shall speak more than once, nor longer than ten minutes, and a vote shall thereafter immediately be taken. Whenever any bill or other matter is made the special order for a particular day and hour, and the consideration thereof shall not be completed at that sitting, it shall retain its place as a special order for the same hour on the succeeding day. And when a special order is under consideration, it shall take precedence of any special order for a subsequent hour of the same day; but such subsequent special order may be taken up immediately after the previous special order has been disposed of.

4. When the Senate has proceeded to the general order of the day, no other business, unless it be a special order, shall be in order until the general orders have been disposed of, except by unanimous consent.

Rule V.—Of Motions.

1. No motion shall be debated until the same shall have been seconded and put by the chair, and, if desired by the presiding officer, or by any Senator, shall be reduced to writing, delivered at the Secretary's desk and read before the same shall be debatable.

2. Any motion or resolution may be withdrawn or modified by the mover at any time before a decision, amendment or ordering of the ayes and nays, except a motion to reconsider, which shall not be withdrawn without leave of the Senate.

3. When the question is under debate, the President shall receive no motion but to adjourn, to take a recess, to proceed to the consideration of the special order, to lay on the table, to close the debate at a specified time, to postpone to a day certain, to commit, to amend, or to postpone indefinitely, and they shall take precedence in the order named.

4. No motion or proposition upon a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

5. A motion to postpone to a day certain, or indefinitely, being decided, shall not be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition; and if a bill or proposition be set for consideration on a certain day, it shall not be considered at an earlier day.

6. No motion shall be deemed in order to admit any person or persons whatsoever, other than a Senator, within the Senate Chamber to present any petition, memorial or address.

Rule VI.—Of Substitute Motions.

Rule VII.—Of Questions of Order.

1. All questions of order shall be decided by the President without debate; such decision shall be subject to appeal to the Senate by any Senator, on which appeal no Senator shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the Senate; and the President, on such appeal, may speak in preference to Senators, rising from his seat for that purpose.

2. If a Senator be called to order for words spoken, the exceptional words spoken shall be immediately taken down in writing by the Secretary, that the President may be better enabled to judge of the matter.

3. If any Senator, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules of the Senate, the President shall, or any Senator may, call him to order; and the Senator called to order shall immediately take his seat, if required to do so by the President, until the question of order is decided. If the decision be in favor of the Senator called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, he shall not be permitted to proceed, in case any Senator object, without leave of the Senate.

Rule VIII.—Of Adjournment.

1. A motion to adjourn, to take a recess, shall always be in order, but being decided in the negative, shall not be again entertained unless some motion other than a call of the Senate or motion for recess shall have taken place.

Rule IX.—Of Division of Question.

1. A question containing two or more propositions, capable of division, shall be divided whenever desired by any Senator. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed divisible; but a motion to strike out being lost, shall neither preclude amendment, nor a motion to strike out and insert.
2. All amendments of the House of Representatives to a Senate bill, or other proposition, shall not be divisible.

Rule X.—Of Debate.

1. The following questions shall be decided without debate, to wit: To suspend the rules, to adjourn, to take a recess, to lay on the table, to take from the table, to go into committee of the whole on the orders of the day, all questions relating to the priority of business.
2. Debate may be closed at any time not less than one hour from the adoption of a motion to that effect, and upon a majority vote of the members-elect an hour may be fixed for a vote upon the pending measure. On either of these motions not more than ten minutes shall be allowed for debate, and no Senator shall speak more than three minutes; and no other motion shall be entertained until the motion to close debate, or to fix an hour for the vote on the pending question, shall have been determined.

Rule XI.—Of Filling Blanks.

1. On filling up blanks, the question shall first be taken on the largest sum, greatest number and most distant day.

Rule XII.—Of the President.

1. The President shall preserve order and decorum, but shall have no vote, except in case of a tie.
2. When two or more Senators rise at the same time, the President shall designate which of them shall be entitled to the floor; but preference should be given to a Senator who has not spoken on the subject under debate.
3. The President shall have the right, in the absence or inability of the President pro tem. to preside, to name any Senator to perform the duties of the chair temporarily, who shall be invested during such time with all the powers and privileges of the President, except that of signing bills and joint resolutions. But such appointment shall not extend beyond the time of the return of the President pro tem., and in no event shall such an appointment extend beyond an adjournment.
4. The President shall have the general direction of the Senate Chamber, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobby or galleries, he shall have the power to order the same to be cleared. He may assign seats within the bar of the Senate to reporters for newspapers, for the purpose of taking down the proceedings, but not so as to interfere with the convenience of the Senate.

5. The President shall, in the presence of the Senate, and after their titles have been previously read, sign all bills and joint resolutions, memorials and addresses, when passed by both houses; and all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the Senate, or any committee thereof, shall be under his hand, attested by the Secretary.
6. The President is authorized to administer all oaths required in the discharge of his duties.
7. He shall appoint all committees except standing committees, unless otherwise ordered.
8. The President may state a question or may read sitting, but when putting a question he shall rise.
9. Upon the first and last day of a regular session of the General Assembly, the Senate shall proceed to the election of a President pro tem., who shall, during the absence or inability to serve of the President, possess all the powers and privileges of the President, and when presiding he shall vote last.

Rule XIII.—Of the Secretary.

1. When a bill or resolution, coming from the House of Representatives, does not appear in print in the form in which it was passed in the House, the Secretary shall either indicate the amendments on the calendar, or shall have the same reprinted, at his discretion.
2. The Assistant Secretary, and other officers and employes at the Secretary's desk, shall be under the direction of and shall perform such duties as may from time to time be required by the Secretary of the Senate.
3. The Secretary shall permit no journals, records, bills or papers to be taken from his desk, or out of his custody, other than in the regular routine of business, nor shall he, at any time or place, allow the same to be handled or examined by any person whatsoever, except the President, Senators and officers and employes of the Senate or State Printer, in the necessary performance of their duties as such.
4. He shall take a receipt for every document which passes from his possession in the due course of business of the Senate, and shall keep a book for that purpose.
5. If any paper in his charge shall be missing, he shall report the fact immediately upon discovery, to the President, in order that inquiry may be made.
6. The Secretary shall keep a book, to be called the docket, in which he shall enter, under appropriate marginal numbers all

Senate and House bills, and joint resolutions and memorials, and correct notes, with the dates thereof, of the state, condition and progress of each bill pending until the final disposition thereof, and shall index the same under the name of the Senator or Representative introducing the bill, joint resolution or memorial, and generally shall perform the duties of Secretary.

Rule XIV.—Of the Journal.

1. The Secretary shall keep a correct journal of each day's proceedings.
2. The title of all bills and proposed amendments shall be entered on the journal.
3. The journal of the Senate shall be printed after the close of each day's session and disposed of in the following manner: one copy shall be placed on the desk of each Senator, and at least four extra copies shall be furnished to the Secretary of the Senate before the opening of the next day's session. Before proceeding with any other business the journal shall be read, corrected and approved. After it has been approved the President of the Senate shall sign four copies as corrected and approved, and the Secretary of the Senate shall attest the same and immediately deposit one signed copy in the office of the Governor for safe-keeping, and file two signed copies in the office of the Secretary of State, and the other shall be kept by the Secretary of the Senate for the use of the Senate. On the last day of the session immediately preceding the hour fixed for final adjournment, the journal of that day shall be read, corrected and approved, and it shall be the duty of the President and the Secretary of the Senate, within two days thereafter, to compare, correct and sign the printed copies of the journal for the last day, and to deliver the same to the Governor and the Secretary of State, in the manner provided for each previous day. The printer's form for each day's journal shall be held intact until said journal has been corrected and approved by the Senate, when all corrections ordered shall be made by the printer without resetting, except as necessary to the making of such correction; and from such corrected form there shall be printed a sufficient number of sheets and in such form that they may be bound into the official Senate Journal at the end of the session without the cost or expense of resetting or reprinting.

Rule XV.—Of the Calendar.

1. The Secretary of the Senate, unless the Senate shall otherwise direct, shall make a list of all bills, resolutions, reports of committees and other proceedings of the Senate which are committed to a committee of the whole Senate, and which are not made the order of the day for any particular day and hour, in the order in which they were reported from committees, which list shall be called the general orders.

2. He shall make a list of all bills, resolutions, reports of committees, and other proceedings of the Senate, which have, by order of the Senate, been set down for consideration at some particular day and hour, which list shall be called the special orders.
3. He shall make a list of all bills, resolutions and memorials which may be upon their third reading, entering these in the order in which they were ordered upon third reading, unless the Senate shall, by a majority vote, otherwise direct; which list shall be called bills upon third reading.
4. The several lists referred to in the preceding sections of this rule, together with such other memoranda as the Senate may direct, shall constitute the calendar of the Senate, which calendar the Secretary shall cause to be prepared, printed and laid upon the desk of the President and each Senator every morning the Senate may be in session.
5. No calendar or part of a calendar shall be reprinted without order of the Senate.

Rule XVI.—Of Senators.

1. No Senator shall be permitted to vote or serve on any committee on any question in the event of which, other than as a citizen, he is individually interested. (Constitution, section 43, article V.)
2. No Senator shall, without leave, absent himself from the Senate, otherwise than temporarily.
3. When a Senator is about to speak, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to "Mr. President," and the President shall announce him as the Senator from the district (giving the number as the case may be). The Senator may then speak from his seat.
4. In all cases, the Senator who shall first rise and address the President shall speak first; but no Senator shall speak more than twice on the same day, nor for more than two hours on the same question, without leave of the Senate, and he shall confine himself to the question under debate and avoid personality; Provided, That any Senator having a bill in charge shall have one hour for closing debate.
5. Any Senator may call for a statement of the question, and, with leave of the Senate, any Senator, while addressing the Senate, may read, or send to the Secretary's desk and have read, from books, papers or documents, any matter pertinent to the subject under discussion.
6. No Senator shall, in any manner, interrupt the business of the Senate while journals or public papers are being read, nor when any Senator is speaking, except it be to raise a question of order, or with the consent obtained through the chair of the speaking Senator, to make a personal explanation or propound an inquiry; nor while the President is putting a question; and no Senator, in speaking, shall refer to a Senator, then present, by name, unless more than one Senator represent a senatorial district.

Rule XVII.—Of Voting.

1. In putting the question the form shall be: "As many as are of the opinion that (as the case may be) will say 'Aye';" and after the affirmative voice is expressed: "As many as are of a different opinion will say 'No'." If the President doubt as to the voice of the majority, or a division be called for, the Senate shall divide; those in the affirmative, first rising, shall be counted, then those in the negative; and if there still be a doubt, then the President shall direct that the roll be called.

2. Every Senator present when the question is put shall vote, unless the Senate, for special reasons, excuse him. A request to be excused from voting shall not be in order unless made before the Senate divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced. Any Senator requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate; but no Senator shall be excused from voting on any question by reason of his occupying the chair.

3. Any Senator may change his vote before the decision of the questions shall have been announced by the chair.

4. When less than a quorum vote on any question pending in the Senate, the President shall forthwith direct that the doors be closed, and that no Senator be permitted to leave the Senate Chamber, and shall order the roll of Senators called by the Secretary. If a quorum be present, as shown by answering the calls, or by their presence in the Chamber, the President shall again order the yeas and nays, and if any Senator refuse to vote, he shall be noted as "present and not voting," and such refusal to vote shall be deemed a contempt, and, unless purged, the President shall direct the Sergeant-at-Arms to bring such Senator or Senators before the bar of the Senate, when he or they shall be publicly reprimanded by the President.

Rule XVIII.—Of Reconsideration.

1. When a question has been decided by the Senate, any Senator voting on the prevailing side may, on the same day, or on either of the next two days of actual session thereafter, move a reconsideration; and if the Senate shall refuse to reconsider, or upon reconsideration shall affirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order unless by unanimous consent. Every motion to reconsider shall be decided by a majority vote, without debate, and may be laid on the table without affecting the question in reference to which the same is made, which shall be a final disposition of the motion.

2. When a bill, resolution, report, amendment, order, or message, upon which a vote has been taken, shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate, and been communicated to the House of Representatives, the motion to reconsider shall be accompanied by a motion to request the House to return the same; which last motion shall be acted upon immediately, and without debate, and if determined in the negative, shall be a final disposition of the motion to reconsider.

3. Upon notice being given by any Senator of his intention to move a reconsideration of any vote taken, the Secretary shall enter the same in the journal, and shall retain the bill or other paper with reference to which the vote was taken (except petitions, enacted bills, and orders of inquiry), until the time for reconsideration has expired; Provided, That the operation of this rule shall be suspended during the last week of the session.

Rule XIX.—Of Demands for Yeas and Nays.

1. Any Senator has the right to demand the yeas and nays upon any question, and upon such demand, the President shall direct the Secretary to call the names of Senators in their alphabetical order, and before the result is declared, the Secretary shall read over the names of those voting in the affirmative, and those voting in the negative, and after the call of the yeas and nays has been commenced, no Senator shall be permitted to explain his vote; nor after the decision has been announced by the chair, shall any Senator, under any circumstances, be permitted to vote.

Rule XX.—Of Disagreement Between Senate and House.

1. In case of a disagreement between the Senate and House of Representatives, the Senate may either recede, insist and ask a conference or adhere, and motions for such purpose shall take precedence in that order.

Rule XXI.—Of Call of the Senate.

1. Any five Senators may demand a call of the Senate, and require absent Senators to be sent for; but a call of the Senate can not be made after voting has commenced; and the call of the Senate being in order, the President shall order that the doors of the Senate be closed, and that no Senator be allowed to leave the Senate Chamber until the pending motion is voted upon, and shall direct the Secretary to call the roll and note the absentees; after which the names of the absentees shall be again called, and those for whose absence no excuse, or an insufficient excuse is made, shall be sent for and taken into custody by the Sergeant-at-Arms, or his assistant, and brought before the bar of the Senate, where, unless excused by a majority of the Senate present, they shall be reprimanded by the President for neglect of duty, and fined, respectively, at least to the extent of the expenses incidental to their apprehension.

Rule XXII.—Of Committees.

1. The following standing committees shall be appointed by resolution at the beginning of each regular session of the General Assembly:

1. Judiciary	11
2. Revision and Engrossment.....	6
3. Finance	14
4. Banking and Insurance.....	8
5. Railroads and Corporations.....	12
6. Education and Educational Institutions.....	6
7. Mines and Mining.....	8
8. Agriculture and Irrigation.....	12
9. Stock	4
10. State Affairs and Public Lands.....	6
11. County Affairs	7
12. State Institutions and Public Buildings.....	10
13. Fish, Forestry and Game.....	5
14. Military Affairs	4
15. Privileges and Elections.....	9
16. Printing	4
17. Enrollment	4
18. Reapportionment	11
19. Labor	7
20. Supplies and Expenditures.....	4
21. Rules	6
22. Horticulture	5
23. City and County of Denver Senators. (To which all bills relating to the City and County of Denver shall be referred.).....	8
24. Constitutional Amendments	3

2. No committee shall sit during the sessions of the Senate, nor at any time occupy the Senate Chamber without leave granted by the Senate.

4. The Committee on Revision shall examine and engross all bills, amendments and joint resolutions or other papers which are required to be engrossed before they go out of the possession of the Senate, and make report when they find them correctly engrossed before they are read a third time; they shall also compare such amendments as shall be made in the House to Senate bills, and that are concurred in by the Senate, after they shall have been re-engrossed in the Senate, for the purpose of seeing if they are correctly engrossed; and no bill shall have its third reading unless it shall have been printed, nor until it has been engrossed and report made thereon by the Committee on Revision that it has been correctly engrossed. The said committee shall examine all bills before third reading and final passage, for the purpose of avoiding repetitions, unconstitutional provisions, securing proper title, and of insuring accuracy in the text and references, and consistency with the language of existing statutes, and as to whether any amendments adopted by the Senate, if not already printed, are of that material character required by the Constitution to be printed. The said Revision Committee shall report the nature of errors, with a concise suggestion as to the change necessary to correct the same. The chairman of the Revision Committee shall certify at the end of the engrossed bill that it is the correctly engrossed bill.

5. The Committee on Enrollment shall examine all bills originating in the Senate and which have passed both houses; see that they are correctly enrolled, signed by the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives, and presented to the Governor, and shall make report thereof to the Senate.

6. The Committee on Printing shall examine and report upon all questions of printing referred to them; and every resolution or motion to print any petition, resolution, report, message, or other document, shall be referred to the committee for report upon the actual or approximate cost thereof; all bills, when reported from the committee of first reference, shall be referred to this committee, and, unless otherwise ordered, shall be printed and reported back in the order of reference, and when printed shall be reported upon as to the accuracy with which they have been printed. The committee shall, from time to time, report any measure that they may deem useful to the economical and proper conduct of the public printing.

7. The Committee on Supplies and Senate Expenditures shall examine and audit all requisitions and bills for supplies and expenditures of the Senate, of its members and committees, for stationery and other purposes, and shall certify to the correctness of the same; and no such requisition shall be made, nor bill be audited or paid, by any officer of the Senate or of the state, unless so certified by the chairman or other member of the committee.

8. The Committees on Revision, Enrollment, Printing and Supplies and Expenditures shall have leave to report at any time.

Rule XXIII.—Of Reference.

1. Motions to refer shall take precedence in the following order, viz.:

- To a standing committee of the Senate.
- To a special committee of the Senate.
- To a joint standing committee.
- To a joint special committee.

Rule XXIV.—Of Reports.

1. Reports of committees, except such as do not propose final action, and reports of Committees of Conference, shall, unless otherwise ordered, be placed upon the calendar for the day next succeeding that on which they are presented to the Senate.

Rule XXV.—Of Bills.

1. Every bill shall be read by title when introduced, and at length on two different days previous to its being passed. All substantial amendments thereto shall be printed and laid on the desks of Senators before the final vote is taken on the bill. The final vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and the names of those voting for and against the same be entered on the journal. No bill shall be declared passed, or signed by the President, unless a majority of all the Senators elected to the Senate shall be recorded as voting for the same.

2. Every Senate bill shall, upon its first reading, and before being printed, be referred, as a matter of course, to the appropriate standing committee, for the single purpose of considering whether or not the bill shall be printed. The committee shall, as soon as possible, and in the order of its reference, report each bill back with the recommendation, "That the bill be ordered printed," or that "The bill be laid on the table;" and in the event of the latter recommendation the committee shall give explicitly their reasons therefor.

3. Three days after the reference of a bill, as provided for in the preceding section of this rule, any Senator may, by giving at least one day's notice, call for the report of the committee required in said section, and, unless excused by the Senate, the committee shall, upon the expiration of the time of notice, make report. And upon the refusal of the chairman of any committee to obey said rule, a majority of any committee may call a committee meeting and make report.

4. The final question upon the second reading of every bill or joint resolution originating in the Senate shall be whether it shall be engrossed and read a third time; and no amendment shall be received at the third reading unless by unanimous consent of the Senators present; but it shall be in order, before the final passage of any such bill or joint resolution, to move its re-commitment; and should such recommitment take place, and any amendment be reported by the committee, the said bill or resolution shall be again read a second time and considered, and the aforesaid question again put.

5. No amendments to bills by the House of Representatives shall be concurred in by the Senate, except by the vote of a majority of the members elected thereto, taken by yeas and nays, and the names of those voting for and against recorded upon the Journal thereof.

6. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and if carried shall be equivalent to its rejection.

7. When an amendment made in the Senate to a bill from the House of Representatives shall be disagreed to by the House, and not adhered to by the Senate, the bill shall be considered as standing on third reading.

Rule XXVI.—Of Conference.

1. Every report of a Committee of Conference shall be printed, together with the bill as amended, or the amendments thereto, subject to the direction of the committee, before action shall be had on such report: Provided, That this rule shall be suspended during the last three days of the session.

2. That the vote on concurring in bills amended in the House of Representatives, or on adopting reports of Committees of Conference, shall not be taken until said bills and reports have been placed on the files of Senators, and particularly referred to in their calendars; Provided, That this rule shall be suspended during the last three days of the session.

Rule XXVII.—Of Secret and Executive Sessions.

1. On a motion being made and seconded to close the doors of the Senate on the discussion of any business which may, in the opinion of any Senator, require secrecy, or on motion being made and carried, that the Senate go into executive session, the President shall direct all except the Senators and Secretary and Sergeant-at-Arms to withdraw, and during the executive session and the discussion of said motion the doors shall remain shut, and every member and officer shall keep secret all such matters, proceedings, and things whereof secrecy shall be enjoined by order of the Senate.

2. Whenever the Senate shall go into the consideration of executive business the proceedings of the Senate in such business shall be kept in a separate journal, which shall not be inspected by any others than the members of the Senate, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate. The Governor shall, from day to day, be notified by the Secretary of the action of the Senate, upon executive nominations, but no further extract from the executive journal shall be furnished, published or otherwise communicated, except by special order of the Senate.

3. When nominations shall be made in writing by the Governor to the Senate, they shall, in executive session, be referred to the appropriate committee, and a future day assigned for their consideration, unless the Senate otherwise direct.

4. Any Senator or officer of the Senate, convicted of disclosing any matter directed by the Senate to be held in confidence, shall be liable, if a Senator, to expulsion, and if an officer, to dismissal from the service of the Senate.

Rule XXVIII.—Of Committee of the Whole.

1. Upon the adoption of a motion to go into the Committee of the Whole Senate, the President unless otherwise ordered by the Senate shall appoint the chairman thereof, who shall for the time being exercise all the powers of the President necessary to the conduct of the business of the committee.

2. The rules of the Senate shall govern, as far as practicable, the proceedings of the committee, except that a member may speak more than twice on the same subject; that a call for the yeas and nays can not be made, nor can an appeal from the decision of the chair be taken.

3. A motion that the committee rise shall always be in order, and shall be decided without debate.

4. All bills shall be considered in Committee of the Whole; all amendments made therein shall be reported by the chairman to the Senate, and shall by him be moved to be inserted, and, if adopted, shall be entered in the journal. Every bill shall be read at length in Committee of the Whole (unless the committee decide to recommend that the enacting clause be stricken out), the chairman shall so report, and entry thereof shall be made in the journal and such reading shall be considered one of the readings required by the Constitution; but if any Senator shall request the reading of the bill at length, while on second reading, it shall be gone.

Rule XXIX.—Of Messages.

1. Messages shall be sent to the House by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary, the Secretary having previously endorsed the final determination of the Senate thereon.

2. Messages from the Governor or House of Representatives may be received at any time, except while the Senate is dividing, or while the journal is being read, or while a question of order or a motion to adjourn is pending, but no such message shall be reported to the Senate without unanimous consent, until the regular order is reached.

Rule XXX.—Of Resolutions.

1. All resolutions, memorials and other papers requiring the signature of the Governor shall be treated in all respects in the introduction and form of proceeding in a similar manner with bills.

2. All resolutions, unless involving the expenditure of public moneys, or unless some Senator give notice of a desire to debate the same, may be acted on at once; otherwise they shall lay over one day.

Rule XXXI.—Of Privileges.

1. No person not a Senator or officer of the Senate, other than the judges of the District and Supreme Courts, the Governor and state officers, members of the congressional delegation, ex-members of the Senate, members of the House of Representatives, duly accredited representatives of the state press, and such other persons as may be invited by the President or Senators, shall be admitted to the Senate Chamber while the Senate is in session or any Committee of the Whole, and any such person shall only be entitled to the quiet and orderly occupancy of the seats provided for visitors or for representatives of the press, and in no event to the privileges of the floor.

2. At no time, whether the Senate be in session or not, shall any employe of the Senate, or any person whatsoever, other than the President or a Senator, be permitted to occupy the chair or use the desk of the President or that of any Senator.

3. The Sergeant-at-Arms and the employes under his direction will be held to a strict enforcement of this rule.

4. Any employe of the Senate, or of its committees, soliciting or inviting any Senator to vote or use his influence for any bill or matter before the Senate, shall be at once dismissed from service and employment; and any person entitled to the privilege of the floor of the Senate who shall, while on the floor during the session of the Senate, solicit or invite any Senator to vote or use his influence for any bill or matter before the Senate, shall forfeit his privilege.

5. Any violation of this rule shall subject the offender, if an officer or employe of the Senate, to immediate removal from office, and, if a privileged person, to the forfeiture of the privilege.

Rule XXXII.—Of Presenting Petitions, Memorials, Etc.

1. In presenting a petition, memorial, remonstrance, or other communication addressed to the Senate, the Senator, from his place, shall make a brief verbal statement of the general purport of it, and if it be not insulting, profane or obscene, it shall be received.

2. Every petition, memorial, remonstrance, resolution, bill and report of committee shall be endorsed with its appropriate title, and immediately thereunder the name of the Senator presenting the same shall be written.

3. Every petition, memorial and other paper shall be referred, as of course, without putting the question, unless the reference be objected to when presented.

Rule XXXIII.—Contested Elections.

1. All contests of the election of a Senator, and all questions affecting or relating to the qualification or eligibility of a Senator, or the right of any Senator to a seat, or membership in the Senate, shall be referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, which shall proceed to hear and determine said matters, and each of them, in such manner, at such times, in such places and under such rules, as said committee may adopt, for the purpose of facilitating such hearing.

Rule XXXIV.—Miscellaneous.

1. During the sessions of the Senate, smoking within the Senate Chamber shall not be allowed.

2. While the President is putting any question or addressing the Senate, no one shall walk across the chamber, and while a Senator is speaking, no one shall walk between him and the chair. No person other than the Secretary or his assistants shall remain at the Secretary's desk while the yeas and nays are being called, or ballots being counted.

3. No purchase shall be made or expense incurred by the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any officer or employe of the Senate, in its behalf, except upon the written order of the chairman or other member of the Committee on Senate Supplies and Expenditures.

4. When the reading of any paper is called for, and not as a part of the remarks of any Senator, and objection be made, it shall be determined by a vote of the Senate, without a debate.

5. Questions of privilege shall be: First, those affecting the rights of the Senate, collectively, its safety, dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings; second, the rights, reputation and conduct of members individually in their senatorial capacity only; and shall immediately have precedence of all other questions, except motions to fix the day to which the Senate shall adjourn, to adjourn, and for a recess.

6. The southwest corner of the Senate gallery shall be reserved for ladies and their escorts; the northwest corner thereof for the families of the members and officers of the Senate and their guests, who shall be admitted only by card of the member or officer. The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate shall appoint one of his assistants, to be known as the Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the Gallery, and whose duties shall be exclusively confined to preserving order in the galleries and the enforcement of the rules of the Senate in relation thereto.

Rule XXXV.—Of Abrogation, Suspensions or Amendment of the Rules.

1. No rule shall be suspended unless by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all members-elect, nor abrogated or amended unless one day's notice be given and upon a majority vote of all members-elect.

Rule XXXVI.—Parliamentary Authority.

1. Jefferson's Manual shall govern the Senate in all cases in which it is applicable, and in which it is not inconsistent with these rules and the joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

That the duties of officers of the Senate, as set forth in the manual of the Thirteenth General Assembly, shall be and remain in full force and effect for the Senate of the Eighteenth General Assembly.

Duties of Officers of the Senate.

Secretary's Department.

The Department of Secretary of the Senate includes the Assistant Secretary, Record Clerk, Reading Clerk, Engrossing and Enrolling Clerks, and such other clerks or assistants as may be required to conduct the clerical work of the Senate.

Secretary

He has the care and custody of all the papers, reports, bills and records, and arranges, in its proper order, from day to day, after its inception, all the business of the Senate. He must, in order to have a proper knowledge of the affairs of his department, apportion, systematize and personally supervise the labors of all his subordinates. The duties of his subordinates are properly his duties, as all are performed under his direction, and he is responsible for any deficiencies. He shall promptly, "on the same day such orders are made," deliver to all committees, bills or other matters that are referred. He shall keep the service accounts of all the Senators and employes of the Senate, and issue his certificates of per diem, signed by the President, attested by himself. He shall keep a journal of each day's proceedings, and deliver the messages of the Senate to the House of Representatives, and sign all orders and directions of the Senate. He shall permit no records, bills, papers or reports to be taken out of his custody belonging to the Senate, otherwise than in the regular course of business; and shall report any missing papers to the attention of the President, as well as all dereliction of duty upon the part of his subordinates. He shall report to the Senate whenever any additional clerical labor is required in his department. He shall be responsible for the safe keeping of all bills and other documents in possession of the Senate, and is required at the close of the session to deposit all papers in his possession as Secretary, properly classified and labeled, with the Secretary of State.

The Assistant Secretary.

His special duty shall be to keep a correct journal of each day's proceedings—under the supervision of the Secretary—and prepare a calendar for each day's business, if so ordered by the Senate; shall also perform such other services as may be required of him by the Secretary. In the absence of the Secretary he shall perform his duties generally.

The Record Clerk.

It shall be his duty to keep the registry of all bills, resolutions, memorials, etc., and make the proper endorsements on same of all actions taken and proceedings had with regard to such papers; to distribute to the proper committees or officers all bills, petitions and other papers referred; to keep a record of all the officers and employes of the Senate, and make out the certificates of per diem ready for the signature of the President and Secretary, and when not otherwise occupied, to help the Assistant Secretary in the performance of his duties.

The Reading Clerk.

It is his duty to read the journals, bills, reports of committees, papers, etc., that may be handed to him by the Secretary, and act as clerk of the Committee of the Whole, and perform such other duties, when not engaged, as may be required of him by the Secretary.

The Engrossing Clerk.

It shall be his special duty to engross all bills ordered to a third reading which the rules require to be engrossed, properly placing all amendments adopted prior to the order of their engrossment. He shall engross all bills in the order that they are given him, and return the same to the chairman of the committee in like order; shall keep a record of all extra clerks engaged, and the time employed, and report the same to the Secretary. By the direction of the Secretary, he shall copy such other documents, journals, reports or papers as may be required for the use of the Senate.

The Enrollment Clerk.

It is his special duty to make clear, legible copies of all the bills which have been concurred in by both branches of the General Assembly, without erasures or interlineations. He shall report to the Secretary all persons engaged, and the time employed, and shall perform such other clerical duty as may be required.

General Regulations.

Each deputy, when not occupied in the performance of his own special duties, is to render such assistance to the Secretary and his assistants as may be in his power, or as the pressure of duties in a particular department may render necessary. The deputies are expected to notify the Secretary of any interference by others with their duties, and of all improper approaches or requests made to them by any person. They are not to exhibit to any person any bill or other documents in their possession without leave of the Secretary. Perfect courtesy must at all times be maintained towards Senators, associate deputies and all who have business to transact with the department.

All committees employing clerks will report to the Secretary the names and time employed, in order that the same may be entered upon the book per diem.

Sergeant-at-Arms' Department

Consists of the Sergeant-at-Arms, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, Doorkeepers, Custodian of Blanks and Bills, Messenger, Janitor, Watchman and Pages, and such other officers as may be required for the policing, protection and execution of the orders of the Senate.

Sergeant-at-Arms

This officer is the executive officer of the Senate, and to his charge is committed all police regulations. He shall see to the furnishing, warming, ventilating and lighting of the Senate and auxiliary rooms; serve subpoenas and warrants of the Senate; announce messages from the Governor and House of Representatives; receive from the Secretary of State all necessary stationery, documents, etc., for the use of the Senate, and distribute the same to the Senators and officers entitled thereto. He shall report all derelictions of duty on the part of his subordinates to the President of the Senate. He is to organize his department with such system that each of his subordinates shall know his precise duties, and he is to see that each performs his duty promptly, thoroughly and courteously. He is required to keep the chamber open from 8 o'clock a. m. to 10 o'clock p. m. There shall be on duty in his department at all times a Sergeant-at-Arms, Doorkeeper, Janitor and two Pages. He shall see that all printed matter is delivered to the Custodian of Bills and Blanks that shall come from the Public Printer.

The Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms

Shall aid and assist his principal generally in the discharge of his duties, and take his place when he is absent.

The Messenger

Shall aid and assist his principal generally in the discharge of his duties and attend to the receipt and distribution of the mails in such a manner as the Sergeant-at-Arms may direct, and perform such other duties as may be required of him.

The Doorkeepers.

The Doorkeepers shall attend to the principal door, open and close it for the entry and exit of all persons entitled to seats inside the bar of the Senate; shall relieve the watchman from his duties at 7:30 a. m., maintain order in the lobby and see that visitors are seated, and that the regulations of the Senate in their department are strictly enforced.

The Janitors.

The Janitors shall attend to the cleaning of the rooms of the Senate at such hours as may be fixed by the Sergeant-at-Arms; see that the gas and heating apparatus is in order; attend in the cloak room, and generally do all things required of them by the Sergeant-at-Arms. They shall leave no rubbish in or about the rooms that may cause destruction by fire.

The Custodian of Bills and Blanks.

It shall be his duty to receive all blanks, bills and documents printed for the use of the Senate, and arrange them in a convenient manner or form for distribution by the Sergeant-at-Arms and Secretary. He shall allow no person not connected with the Senate to remove any blanks, bills or documents from his custody.

The Watchman.

The Watchman shall report for duty to the Sergeant-at-Arms at 9:00 p. m. each night, and shall be placed in charge of the Senate chamber and all auxiliary rooms until 7:30 a. m. He shall see that all doors are fastened; that all lights are extinguished, not required by officers of the Senate, and that no person is admitted to the chambers or rooms unless upon an order of the chief officer of the Senate; shall see that no papers, books, or documents are removed, except by known Senators or officers; shall report all violations of the rules to the Sergeant-at-Arms.

The Duties of Pages.

To be in attendance from 8 o'clock a. m. to 9 o'clock p. m. every day, whether the Senate is in session or not.

To receive from the Custodian of Bills and Blanks the printed bills and arrange them on the file of each Senator; distribute such documents, papers and mail matter as may come to the Senate, under direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Not to leave the Senate during the session, or absent themselves except upon the leave of the Sergeant-at-Arms. To take the positions assigned to them by the Secretary, and, standing up so as to see and be seen, hold themselves in readiness to bring all bills, resolutions, etc., from the several Senators to the Secretary, when presented; to answer promptly any call and render assistance to any Senator requiring it.

Joint Rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Rule 1. Each house shall transmit to the other all papers on which any bill or resolution shall be founded.

Rule 2. When a bill or resolution which shall have passed in one house shall be rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be given to the house in which the same may have passed.

Rule 3. Message from one house to the other shall be communicated by the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House, unless the house transmitting the message shall specifically direct otherwise.

Rule 4. It shall be in the power of either house to amend any amendment made by the other to any bill or resolution.

Rule 5. In any case of difference between the two houses upon any subject of legislation, either house may request a conference, and appoint a committee for that purpose, and the other house shall also appoint a committee to confer. The committee shall meet at such house and place as shall be appointed by the chairman of the committee on the part of the houses requesting such conference. The conferees shall state to each other verbally, or in writing, as either shall choose, the reasons of their respective houses, and confer fully thereon. The committee shall report in writing, and shall be authorized to report such modifications or amendment as they think advisable. But no committee on conference shall consider or report on any matters except those directly at issue between the two houses. The papers shall be left with the conferees of the house assenting to such conference, and they present the report of the committee to their house. When such house shall have acted thereon, they shall transmit the same, and the papers relating thereto, to the other, with a message certifying its action thereon. Every report of a committee of conference shall be read through in each house before a vote is taken on the same.

Rule 6. It shall be in order for either house to recede from any subject matter of difference existing between the two houses, at any time previous to conference, whether the papers on which such difference arose are before the house receding, formally or informally; and on such vote to recede, the same number shall be required to constitute a quorum to act thereon, and to assent to such a receding, as was required on the original question out of which the difference arose.

Rule 7. After each house shall have adhered to their disagreement, the bill which is the subject of difference shall be deemed lost and shall not again be reviewed during the same session in either house.

Rule 8. All joint committees of the two houses, and all committees of conference, shall consist of two Senators, and three members of Assembly, unless otherwise specially ordered by concurrent resolution.

Rule 9. There shall be printed, of course, and without order, two hundred and forty copies of all original bills reported by committees of either house.

Rule 10. When the same document shall, by separate orders, be directed to be printed by both houses, it shall be regarded as but one order unless otherwise expressly directed by either house.

Rule 11. There shall be printed and distributed as follows:

To the Senate, eighty copies.

To the Assembly, one hundred and forty copies.

To the State officers, fifteen copies.

To the State Library, one copy.

Retain to bind, four copies.

Joint Convention Rules.

Rule 1. Joint conventions shall be held in the hall of the House of Representatives, and the President of the Senate shall preside.

Rule 2. The Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House of Representatives shall be secretaries of the joint convention, and the proceedings of the convention shall be published with the Journals of the House, and the final result, as announced by the President on return of the Senate to their chamber, shall be entered on the Journals of the Senate.

Rule 3. The rules of the House of Representatives, so far as the same may be applicable, shall govern the proceedings in joint convention.

Rule 4. Whenever a President pro tempore presides, he shall be entitled to vote upon all occasions, and in case of a tie the question shall be declared lost.

Rule 5. Joint conventions shall have the power to compel the attendance of absent members in the mode and under the penalties prescribed by the rules of the house to which such members respectively belong, and for that purpose the Sergeant-at-Arms of each house shall attend.

Rule 6. Joint conventions may adjourn from time to time, as may be found necessary; and it shall be the duty of the House of Representatives to prepare to receive the Senate, and of the Senate to proceed to the hall of the House of Representatives at the time fixed by law or resolution, or to which the joint convention may have adjourned.

HOUSE RULES

TOGETHER WITH THE

JOINT RULES

Governing the House and Senate and a List of the Standing Committees of the House of the Eighteenth
General Assembly

COLORADO

1911

Rules of the House of Representatives.

Rule I.—Of Calling to Order.

1. The stated hour of meeting, unless otherwise ordered, shall be 10 o'clock in the morning of each day.

Rule II.—Of the Speaker.

1. The Speaker shall take the chair at the hour to which the House stands adjourned, call the members to order, and on the appearance of a quorum proceed to business.

2. He shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobbies and galleries, may cause the same to be cleared, or shall do so upon the demand of the House.

3. He shall have the general direction of the hall of the House of Representatives, of the approaches thereto, and may assign seats within the bar of the House to regularly appointed reporters for the press. Such reporters so appointed and assigned shall be entitled to such seats as the Speaker shall designate and shall have the right to pass to and from such seats in entering and leaving the House.

4. He shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the House. On every appeal he shall have the right in his place to assign his reason for such decision.

5. He shall appoint all committees, whether standing, joint or special.

6. He shall, in the presence of the House, sign all bills and joint resolutions, memorials and addresses, passed by the General Assembly, after their titles shall have been publicly read immediately before signing, which fact shall be entered on the Journal. (Constitution, article V, section 26.) He shall sign all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the House, or by any committee thereof, and the same shall be attested by the Clerk.

7. He may state a question or may read sitting, but when putting a question he shall rise.

8. He is authorized to administer all oaths required in the discharge of his duties.

9. He may substitute any member to perform the duties of the chair for a period not exceeding a period of three consecutive legislative days, but for no longer period except by special consent of the House.

10. He may vote upon all occasions, except on appeals from his decision.

11. He shall be ex-officio a member of the Committee on Rules.

12. He shall, when the House determines upon going into the committee of the whole, name a chairman to preside therein.

13. He may speak as other members on general questions—when he shall call some other member to the chair.

14. He shall declare all votes. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to-wit: "As many as are in favor of (as the question may be) say 'Aye;'" and after the affirmative voice is expressed, "As many as are opposed will say 'No.'" If the Speaker doubt, or a division be called for, the House shall divide—those voting in the affirmative shall first rise from their seats; afterwards those in the negative.

15. He shall receive all messages and communications from other departments of the government and announce them to the House.

16. He shall represent the House, declare its will, and in all things obey its commands. Every officer of the House is subordinate to the Speaker, and in all that relates to the prompt and correct discharge of official duties, is under his supervision.

Rule III.—Of the Clerk.

1. The Clerk shall keep a correct journal of each day's proceedings. He shall enter therein the ayes and noes, all votes taken in the concurrence by the House in all amendments made by the Senate, and in the adoption of all reports of all Committees of Conference, and in final passage of all bills. (Constitution, article V, sections 22 and 23.)

2. The titles of all bills and proposed amendments shall be entered on the journal.

3. When a bill or resolution, coming from the Senate, does not appear in print in the form in which it was passed in the Senate, the Clerk shall either indicate the amendments on the calendar, or shall have the same reprinted, when ordered by the House.

4. The officers and employes at the Clerk's desk shall be under the direction of, and shall perform such duties as may from time to time be required by, the Clerk of the House.

5. The Clerk shall permit no journals, records, bills or papers to be taken from his desk, or out of his custody, other than in the regular routine of business; nor shall he, at any time or place, allow the same to be handled or examined by any person whatsoever, except the Speaker, members and officers or employes of the House or State Printer, in the necessary performance of their duties as such.

6. He shall take a receipt for every document which passes from his possession in the due course of business of the House, and shall keep a book for that purpose.

7. If any papers in his charge shall be missed, he shall report the fact, immediately upon discovery, to the Speaker, in order that inquiry may be made.

8. The Clerk shall keep a book, to be called the Docket, in which he shall enter, under appropriate marginal numbers, all Senate and House bills, and joint resolutions and memorials, and correct notes, with the dates thereof, of the state, condition and progress of each bill pending until the final disposition thereof, and shall index the same under the name of the Senator or Representative introducing the bill, joint resolution or memorial, and generally shall perform the duties of Clerk, under the direction of the Speaker.

9. The Clerk shall make a list of all bills in the order in which they were reported from committees—unless the House shall otherwise direct—resolutions, reports of committees and other proceedings of the House, which are committed to a committee of the whole House, and which are not made the order of the day for any particular day and hour; which list shall be called the General Orders.

10. He shall make a list of all bills, resolutions, reports of committees, and other proceedings of the House, which have, by order of the House, been set down for consideration at some particular day and hour; which list shall be called the Special Orders.

11. He shall make a list of all bills, resolutions and memorials which may be upon their third reading, entering these in the order in which they were ordered upon third reading, unless the House shall, by a majority vote, otherwise direct; which list shall be called Bills upon Third Reading.

12. The several lists referred to in the preceding sections of this rule, together with such other memoranda or matter as the House may direct, shall constitute the general calendar of the House, which general calendar the Clerk shall cause to be prepared, printed and laid upon the desk of the Speaker and each member at such times as the Speaker and House may direct. The Clerk shall also prepare, and cause to be printed each day and laid upon the desk of the Speaker and each member, a supplement to the general calendar containing a list of adverse reports, consideration of conference reports, resolutions, third reading of bills, special orders, and other memoranda or matters so ordered, in the order named.

13. Any objection to the calendar shall be made and disposed of before the House proceeds to the consideration of the orders of the day.

Rule IV.—Of Members.

1. Petitions, memorials and any other papers addressed to the House shall be presented by the Speaker or by any member in his place.

2. Every member presenting a paper shall endorse the same; if a petition, memorial or report to the Legislature, with a brief statement of its subject or contents, adding his name; if a notice or resolution, with his name; if a report of a committee, a statement of such report with the name of the committee and the member making the same; if a bill, a statement of its title with his name.

3. Every member who shall be within the chamber of the House when a question is stated from the chair shall vote thereon unless he be excused by the House, or unless he be directly interested in the question; but no member shall be obliged to vote on any question unless within the chamber when his name is called.

4. No member rising to debate, to give a notice, make a motion, or report, or to present a petition or other paper, shall proceed until he shall have addressed the Speaker and have been recognized by him, when he may proceed to address the House from any place on the floor or from the Clerk's desk, and shall confine himself to the question under debate, avoiding personality.

5. While a member is speaking no member shall entertain any private discourse or pass between him and the chair.

6. While the Speaker is putting the question or addressing the House, no person shall walk out of or across the hall, nor when a member is speaking entertain private discourse or pass between him and the chair; and during the session of the House no member or other person shall wear his hat; no member shall remain by the Clerk's desk during the counting of the ballots or the call of the roll; and the Sergeant-at-Arms and the Door-keeper are charged with the strict enforcement of this rule.

7. When a motion to adjourn is carried the members and officers shall keep their seats and places until the Speaker declares the House adjourned.

8. Every member shall attend in his place precisely at the hour to which the House was last adjourned; and in case of neglect he shall be subject to a reprimand from the chair, unless excused by the House; nor shall any member absent himself from the House for more than twenty consecutive minutes, without leave previously obtained.

9. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order, in which case he shall immediately sit down, unless permitted, on motion of another member, to explain, and the House shall, if appealed to, decide on the case without debate; if the decision is in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed, but not otherwise; and if the case requires it, he shall be liable to censure or such punishment as the House may deem proper.

10. If a member is called to order for words spoken in debate, the member calling him to order shall indicate the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's desk and read aloud to the House, but he shall not be held to answer nor be subject to the censure of the House therefor if further debate or other business has intervened.

11. When two or more members rise at once, the Speaker shall name the member who is to speak first.

12. No member shall be excused from attendance for more than one day without consent of two-thirds of all the members present. For a day or less he may be excused by a majority.

13. Any member shall have the right to protest against any action of the House, and such protest, with the reasons therefor, when reduced to writing, shall, without alteration, commitments or delay, be entered in the journal, provided said protest is not personal in its nature.

14. Pairs shall be announced by the Clerk after the completion of the roll call upon any question, motion or bill from a written list furnished him and signed by the member announcing the pair to the Clerk, which list shall be published in the journal as part of the proceedings, immediately following the names of those not voting; Provided, That if it be necessary to constitute a quorum, all pairs shall be considered as withdrawn.

15. Any member may call for a statement of the question, and any member, while addressing the House, may read or send to the Clerk's desk and have read from books, papers or documents, any matter pertaining to the subject under discussion without asking leave; Provided, That upon objection made by any member, the matter being so read, shall, by the vote of a majority of the members be decided without debate to pertain to the subject, and as not being read for the purpose of delay.

16. Any member may change his vote before the decision of the question shall have been announced by the chair.

17. Every petition, memorial or other paper shall be referred, as a matter of course, without putting the question, unless the reference be appealed to when it is presented.

18. When the reading of any paper is called for and not as a part of the remarks of any member, and objection be made, it shall be determined by a vote of the House, without debate.

Rule V.—For the Election of Officers.

1. There shall be chosen at the commencement of each regular session of the Legislature, a chief clerk, an assistant clerk, reading clerk, bill clerk, docket clerk, sergeant-at-arms, three assistant sergeants-at-arms, chaplain, chief enrolling clerk, with not more than one assistant enrolling clerk, chief printing clerk, two assistant printing clerks, two messengers, one doorkeeper, two assistant doorkeepers, one janitor for chamber, one janitor for committee rooms, one janitor for cloak room and gallery, telephone messenger, one night watchman, one matron for women's gallery, six pages, and a clerk for each of the following named committees: Judiciary, one; revision and constitution, two; finance, ways and means, corporations, agricultural and irrigation, and appropriations, each one; and four additional committee clerks to be assigned by the Speaker to the remaining committees as may be required.

All clerks as above set forth except chief clerk, reading clerk, bill clerk, docket clerk, chief and assistant printing clerks and clerk of judiciary committee, must be competent stenographers and typewriters, and all printing clerks shall be skilled and competent proof readers.

2. The Speaker of the House may, at the request of any Committee, when the labor required to be done by the clerks of said committee can not be done by the said clerks, detail any other clerks of the House to assist in the labor to be done by said committee. Every officer and employe shall take an oath to support the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of the State of Colorado, and for the true and faithful discharge of the duties of his office to the best of his knowledge and ability, and to keep the secrets of the House; and no officer or employe of the House shall enter upon the duties of his office or employment, nor shall his per diem begin to run until an oath of office shall have been administered by the Speaker, and a record thereof made with the clerk.

Rule VI.—Of Other Officers.

1. The Doorkeeper shall enforce strictly the rules relating to the privileges of the hall.

2. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall attend the House during its sittings, maintain order under the direction of the Speaker, and pending the election of a Speaker or Speaker pro tempore, under the direction of the Clerk, execute the commands of the House and all processes issued by authority thereof directed to him by the Speaker.

3. The Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms shall superintend the postoffice kept for the accommodation of the members and officers of the House, and be held responsible for the prompt and safe delivery of their mail, and in general perform such other duties as may be directed by the Sergeant-at-Arms.

4. The Chaplain shall attend at the commencement of each day's sitting of the House and open the same with prayer.

5. Any officer or employe of the House or of its committees soliciting or inviting any member to vote for or against, or use his influence for or against any bill or matter before the House, shall be at once dismissed from service or employment.

6. No purchase shall be made or expense incurred by the Sergeant-at-Arms or any other officer or employe of the House in its behalf, except upon the written order of the Committee on House Expenses.

Rule VII.—Of a Quorum.

1. A majority of all the members elected shall constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day; and whenever a less number than a quorum shall convene at a regular meeting and adjourn, the names of those present shall be entered on the journal.

2. Whenever a less number than a quorum shall convene at a regular meeting, they are empowered to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, for any or all absent members; and the actual expense incurred thereby in each case shall be paid by the absentees, respectively, unless, for a good and sufficient reason, they may have been, or may be, excused by the House.

3. When less than a quorum vote on any question pending in the House, the Speaker shall forthwith direct that the doors be closed, and that no member be permitted to leave the House, and shall order the roll of members called by the Clerk. If a quorum be present, as shown by answering the calls, or by their presence in the House, the Speaker shall again order the yeas and nays, and if any member refuse to vote, he shall be noted as "present and not voting," and such refusal to vote shall be deemed a contempt, and unless purged, the Speaker shall direct the Sergeant-at-Arms to bring such member or members before the bar of the House, when he or they shall be publicly reprimanded by the Speaker.

Rule VIII.—Of Order of Business.

1. The House having been called to order at the hour to which it shall have adjourned, and a quorum being present, the journal of the preceding day shall be read, to the end that any mistakes therein may be corrected and the journal approved.

2. After the reading and approval of the journal, the order of business shall be as follows:

First—Presentation of petitions and memorials.

Second—Reports of standing committees.

Third—Reports of special committees.

Fourth—Messages from the Governor.

Fifth—Communications from State officers.

Sixth—Messages from the Senate.

Seventh—1. Introduction of resolutions.

2. Consideration of resolutions.

Eighth—Introduction of bills, first reading by title.

Ninth—Third reading of bills.

Tenth—Second reading of bills, and general orders.

3. Whenever any bill or other matter is made the special order for a particular day and hour, and the consideration thereof shall not be reached on that day, it shall take its place in the general order; and when a special order is under consideration, it shall take precedence of any special order for a subsequent hour of the same day, or the succeeding day; but such subsequent special order may be taken up immediately after the previous special order has been disposed of; Provided, Such subsequent special order is reached on the day on which the same is set for special order.

4. When the House has proceeded to the general orders of the day, no other business, unless it be a special order, shall be in order until the general orders have been disposed of, except by unanimous consent.

5. All motions and resolutions intended to provide for special orders, or in any manner for the conduct of the business of the House out of the regular order, except to suspend the rules, shall, before action, be referred to the Committee on Rules, and their report had thereon, and such committee shall report within 24 hours, except otherwise ordered.

Rule IX.—Of the Questions of Privilege.

1. Questions of privilege shall be, first, those affecting the rights of the House collectively, its safety, dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings; second, the rights, reputation and conduct of members, individually in their representative capacity only; and shall immediately have precedence of all other questions except motions to fix the day to which the House shall adjourn, to adjourn and for a recess.

Rule X.—Of Motions.

1. No motion shall be debated until the same shall have been seconded and put by the chair, and, if desired, by the presiding officer, or by any member, shall be reduced to writing, delivered at the Clerk's desk, and read before the same shall be debatable.

2. Any motion or resolution may be withdrawn or modified by the mover at any time before a decision, amendment or ordering of the yeas and nays, except a motion to reconsider, which shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House.

3. When a question is under debate, the Speaker shall receive no motion but to adjourn, to take a recess, to proceed to the consideration of the special order, to lay on the table, for the previous question, to postpone to a day certain, to commit, to amend, or to postpone indefinitely, and they shall take precedence in the order named.

4. No bill shall be so altered or amended in its passage through the House as to change its original purpose. (Constitution, article V, section 17.)

5. No motion or proposition upon a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

6. A motion to postpone to a day certain, or indefinitely, being decided, shall not be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition; and if a bill or proposition be set for consideration on a certain day, it shall not be considered at an earlier day.

7. No motion shall be deemed in order to admit any person or persons whomsoever, other than a member, within the House to present any petition, memorial or address.

9. A motion to fix the day to which the House shall adjourn, a motion to adjourn and to take a recess, shall always be in order, but once having been acted upon adversely, shall not again be in order until some other business has intervened.

10. A question containing two or more propositions, capable of division, shall be divided whenever desired by any member. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed divisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall neither preclude amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

11. Amendments made in the Senate to a House bill or other proposition shall not be divisible.

12. Pending a motion to suspend the rules, the Speaker may entertain one motion to adjourn; but after the result thereof is announced, he shall not entertain any other dilatory motion till the vote is taken on suspension.

Rule XI.—Of Debate.

1. The following questions shall be decided without debate, to-wit: To adjourn, to take a recess, to lie on the table, to take from the table, to go into committee of the whole on the orders of the day, and all questions relating to the priority of business.

2. No member shall occupy more than thirty minutes in debate on any question in the House, except as further provided in this rule.

3. The member introducing the measure under consideration, when reported from a committee, may open and close, where general debate has been had thereon; and if it shall extend beyond one day, he shall be entitled to one hour to close, notwithstanding he may have used thirty minutes in the opening.

4. No member shall speak more than once to the same question without leave of the House, unless he be the mover, proposer or introducer of the matter pending, in which case he shall be permitted to speak in reply, but not until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

Rule XII. Of Filling Blanks.

1. In filling up blanks, the question shall first be taken on the largest sum, greatest number and most distant day.

Rule XIII.—Of Reconsideration.

1. When a question has been decided by the House, any member voting on the prevailing side may, on the same day, or on either of the next two days of actual session thereafter, move a reconsideration; and if the House shall refuse to reconsider, or upon reconsideration shall affirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order unless by unanimous consent. Every motion to reconsider shall be decided by a majority vote, without debate, and may be laid on the table without affecting the question in reference to which the same is made, which shall be a final disposition of the motion.

2. When a bill, resolution, report, amendment, order or message, upon which a vote has been taken, shall have gone out of the possession of the House, and been communicated to the Senate, the motion to reconsider shall be accompanied by a motion to request the Senate to return the same; which last motion shall be acted upon immediately and without debate; and if determined in the negative, shall be a final disposition of the motion to reconsider.

3. Upon notice being given by any member of his intention to move a reconsideration of any vote taken, the Clerk shall enter the same in the journal and shall retain the bill or other paper with reference to which the vote was taken (except petitions, enacted bills, and orders of inquiry), until the time for reconsideration has expired; Provided, That the operation of this rule shall be suspended during the last week of the session.

4. A motion to reconsider shall take precedence of all other questions, except the consideration of a conference report, a motion to fix the day to which the House shall adjourn, to adjourn, to take a recess, and shall not be withdrawn without consent of the House, and thereafter any member may call it up for consideration.

Rule XIV.—Of Demand for Yeas and Nays.

1. Any member has the right to demand the yeas and nays upon any question before the decision is announced by the chair, and upon such demand the Speaker shall direct the Clerk to call the names of members in their alphabetical order; and before the result is declared the Clerk shall, upon demand, read over the names of those voting in the affirmative and of those voting in the negative; when the yeas and nays are called any member may, when his name is called, be allowed not to exceed two minutes in which to explain his vote; Provided, That this privilege shall be curtailed to a half a minute for each member during the last ten days of the session. After the decision has been announced by the chair, no member shall, under any circumstances, be permitted to vote. And a record shall be kept in the journal of the names of all members who shall vote "aye" and of the names of all members who shall vote "no" on each and every roll call.

Rule XV.—Of Disagreement Between House and Senate.

1. In case of a disagreement between the House and Senate, the House may either recede, insist and ask a conference or adhere, and motions for such purposes shall take precedence in that order.

Rule XVI.—Of the Call of House.

1. Any ten members may demand a call of the House, and require absent members to be sent for, but a call of the House cannot be made after voting has commenced; and the call of the House being in order, the Speaker shall order that the doors of the House be closed, and that no member be allowed to leave the House until the call is dispensed with, and shall direct the Clerk to call the roll and note the absentees, after which the names of the absentees shall be again called, and those for whose absence no excuse, or an insufficient excuse, is made, shall be sent for, and taken in custody by the Sergeant-at-Arms or his assistant, and brought before the bar of the House, where, unless excused by a majority of the members present, they shall be reprimanded by the Speaker for neglect of duty, and fined, respectively, at least to the extent of the expenses incidental to their apprehension.

Rule XVII.—Of Committees.

1. The following standing committees shall be appointed at the commencement of the session, unless otherwise ordered, and the first member named shall be the chairman.

1. Agriculture and Irrigation.
2. Appropriations and Expenditures.
3. Banking.

4. Counties and County Lines.
5. Corporations.
6. Criminal Jurisprudence.
7. Constitutional Amendments.
8. Denver City Affairs.
9. Education.
10. Elections and Appointments.
11. Engrossment.
12. Enrollment.
13. Federal Relations.
14. Fees and Salaries.
15. Finance, Ways and Means.
16. Fish and Game.
17. House Expenses.
18. Indian and Military Affairs.
19. Insurance.
20. Judiciary.
21. Labor.
22. Medical Affairs and Public Health.
23. Mercantile and Manufacturing Interests.
24. Mines and Mining.
25. Penitentiary.
26. Printing.
27. Public Buildings.
28. Public Lands.
29. Railroads.
30. Revision and Constitution.
31. Roads and Bridges.
32. Rules.
33. State Affairs and Reapportionment.
34. State Canals and Reservoirs.
35. Stock.
36. State Institutions.
37. Temperance.
38. Towns and Cities.
39. Forest Reserves and Forestry.

The following standing committees shall consist of thirteen members: Corporations, Railroads, Agricultural and Irrigation, Mines and Mining, State Institutions and Appropriations and Expenditures.

The following of eleven members: Judiciary, Denver City Affairs and Criminal Jurisprudence.

The following of five members: Rules, Engrossment and Enrollment.

All other committees of nine members each.

2. No committee shall sit during the session of the House, and no committee shall at any time occupy the hall of the House, without leave granted by the House.

3. All committees, except the Printing Committee, shall report upon all matters referred to them within four days, unless otherwise ordered, and in case of an adverse report shall at all times state explicitly their reasons therefor; they shall return all petitions and other papers referred to them with the bill or resolution, if any, to which they relate, and the same shall be transmitted to the Senate, in connection with the said bill or resolution, or shall be filed for the use of the House. The Printing Committee shall report upon all matters referred to it within three days, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

4. The Committee on Engrossment shall examine all bills, amendments and joint resolutions or other papers which are required to be engrossed, before they go out of the possession of the House, and make report when they find them correctly engrossed, before they are read a third time; they shall also compare such amendments as may be made in the Senate to House bills, and that are concurred in by the House, after they shall have been re-engrossed in the House, for the purpose of seeing if they are correctly engrossed; and no bill shall have its third reading unless it shall have been printed, nor until it has been engrossed, and report thereon made by the Committee on Engrossment that it has been correctly engrossed.

5. The Committee on Enrollment shall examine all bills originating in the House and which have passed both Houses, see that they are correctly enrolled, signed by the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate, and presented to the Governor, and shall make report thereof to the House.

6. The Committee on Printing shall examine and report upon all questions of printing referred to them; and every resolution or motion to print any petition, resolution, report, message or other document, shall be referred to the committee for report upon the actual or approximate cost thereof; all bills when reported from the committee of first reference shall be referred to this committee, and unless otherwise ordered shall be printed and reported back in the course of order of reference, and when printed shall be reported upon as to the accuracy with which they have been printed. The committee shall, from time to time, report any measure that they may deem useful to the economical and proper conduct of the public printing.

7. The Committee on Revision and Constitution shall examine all bills before third reading and final passage, for the purpose of avoiding repetitions, unconstitutional provisions, securing proper title, and of insuring accuracy in the text and references, and consistency with the language of existing statutes, and as to whether any amendments adopted by the House, if not already printed, are of that material character required by the Constitution to be printed.

8. The Committee on House Expenses shall examine and audit all requisitions and bills for supplies and expenditures of the House, or its members and committees, for stationery and other purposes, and shall certify to the correctness of the same, and no such requisition shall be made, nor bill be audited or paid by any officer of the House, unless so certified by the committee.

9. The Committees on Revision and Constitution, Engrossment, Enrollment, Printing, and House Expenses, shall have leave to report at any time.

10. Whenever the Engrossment, Enrollment and Printing Committees deem the employment of an additional clerk or clerks necessary, they may so report to the House, and the Speaker may instruct other clerks to assist such committees.

11. It shall not be in order, at any time, nor in any manner other than by bill, to attempt to increase the per diem of any officer or employe, or to render any back pay to them.

12. Sections 10 and 11 of this rule, shall neither be abrogated, suspended or amended, except by a three-fifths vote, and then only upon five days' notice of a proposition to either effect being given.

13. The following named committees shall have leave to report at any time on the matters herein stated:

The Committee on Elections, on the right of a member to his seat.

The Committee on Finance, Ways and Means, on bills providing for the raising of revenue.

The Committee on Appropriations and Expenditures, on general appropriation bills.

The Committee on Engrossment and Enrollment, on engrossed and enrolled bills.

The Committee on Printing, on printing for the use of the House, or for the use of the two Houses.

The Committee on House Expenses, on matters of contingent expenses of the House.

Rule XVIII.—Of Reference.

1. Motions to refer shall take precedence in the following order, viz.:

To a standing committee of the House.

To a special committee of the House.

To a joint standing committee.

To a joint special committee.

Rule XIX.—Of Reports.

1. Reports of committees, except such as do not propose final action, and reports of committees of conference, shall, unless otherwise ordered, be placed upon the calendar for the day next succeeding that on which they are presented to the House.

Rule XX.—Of Bills.

1. Every bill shall be read by title when introduced, and at length on two different days, previous to its being passed. All substantial amendments thereto shall be printed and laid on the desks of members before the final vote is taken on the bill. The final vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and the names of those voting for and against the same be entered on the journal. No bill shall be declared passed or signed by the Speaker, unless a majority of all the members elected to the House of Representatives shall be recorded as voting for the same.

2. Every House bill shall, upon its first reading, and before being printed, be referred to the appropriate standing committee, for the single purpose of considering whether or not the bill shall be printed, except that the committee shall have the right to correct clerical errors. The committee shall, as soon as possible, and in the order of its reference, report each bill back with its recommendation, "That the bill be ordered printed," or that "The bill be laid on the table," and in the event of the latter recommendation, the committee shall give, explicitly, its reasons therefor.

3. Three days after the reference of a bill, as provided for in the preceding section of this rule, any member may, by giving at least one day's notice, call for the report of the committee required in said section, and, unless excused by the House, the committee shall, upon the expiration of the time of notice, make report.

4. The final question upon the second reading of every bill or joint resolution originating in the House, shall be whether it shall be engrossed and read a third time; and no amendment shall be received at the third reading, unless by unanimous consent of the members present; but it shall be in order, before the final passage of any such bill or joint resolution, to move its recommitment; and should such recommitment take place, and any amendment be reported by the committee, the said bill or resolution shall be again read a second time and considered, and the aforesaid question again put.

5. No amendment shall be received by the Speaker which destroys the general sense of the original section, clause or paragraph. No amendment to bills by the Senate shall be concurred in by the House, except by the vote of a majority of the members elected thereto, taken by yeas and nays, and the names of those voting for and against recorded upon the journal thereof.

6. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall always be in order and have precedence of any other motion, and if carried shall be equivalent to its rejection, and in Committee of the Whole, opens up the question to general debate. A motion to strike out the enacting clause upon the third reading of a bill shall be in order and must be made after the title of the bill has been read. The motion is debatable, though no member shall speak more than once, and not to exceed five minutes; Provided, That during the last three days of the session only the mover of the motion to strike and the author of the bill affected may debate the motion for a period not to exceed three minutes each.

7. When an amendment made in the House to a bill from the Senate shall be disagreed to by the Senate, and not adhered to by the House, the bill shall be considered as standing on third reading.

8. The following shall be the course in the introduction, reference and passage of bills through the House:

First—Introduction of a bill and first reading by title.

Second—Reference of the bill by the Speaker to the proper committee, subject only to be changed by a decision of the House.

Third—Docketing by Docket Clerk.

Fourth—Bill to be delivered by the Docket Clerk to the chairman of the committee to which it was referred, taking his receipt therefor.

Fifth—Consideration of the bill by the committee, which shall recommend either:

(a) That it be ordered printed.

(b) That it lie on the table.

(c) That it be indefinitely postponed, giving the reasons of the committee therefor.

Sixth—If the report to print be adopted, the bill shall go to the Printing Committee.

Seventh—When printed, the Printing Committee shall report the bill as correctly printed.

Eighth—It shall then be returned to the original committee; it shall be carefully considered upon its merits by said committee, after which said committee shall report to the House as follows:

(a) That it be considered in the Committee of the Whole, with the favorable recommendation or specified amendments.

(b) It may be referred to the Committee of the Whole without recommendation.

(c) That it be indefinitely postponed, with the reasons therefor.

Ninth—Consideration in the Committee of the Whole on second reading of the bill, at which time the following motions are in order:

(a) That the enacting clause be stricken out.

(b) That it be recommitted to any standing committee for further consideration.

(c) That it be passed over and retain its place upon the calendar.

(d) That a House or Senate bill on the calendar upon the same subject be substituted for the bill under consideration.

(e) That it be amended.

(f) That it be ordered referred to the Committee on Constitution and Revision, be engrossed, and placed upon the calendar for third reading and final passage.

(g) That the committee rise, report progress and ask leave to sit again.

(h) Any other germane motions.

Tenth—Report of the Committee of the Whole to the House, by its chairman.

Eleventh—Action by the House, either amending, adopting or rejecting the report of the Committee of the Whole.

Twelfth—All substantial amendments made in the Committee of the Whole or upon recommendation of the standing committee shall be printed in the House Calendar and laid upon the desks of the members.

Thirteenth—Consideration by the House on the third reading and final passage of the bill, when it shall be in order:

(a) To strike out the enacting clause;

(b) To adopt the bill; or

(c) To recommit the same back to the Committee of the Whole or to any standing committee, as the House may direct.

Fourteenth—When any bill, resolution, report, amendment, order or message has been formally acted on by the House or the Committee of the Whole, either by being defeated or passed, no further action can be had thereupon that will have the effect of resurrecting or defeating the same; except as provided in Rule XIII, Section 1, and then only upon the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to the House. It is especially provided that Section 25 of Roberts' Rules of Order shall not be applicable to defeat the purpose of this rule.

Rule XXI.—Of Conference.

1. Every report of a committee of conference shall be printed, together with the bill as amended, or the amendments thereto, subject to the direction of the committee, before action shall be had on such report: Provided, That this rule shall be suspended during the last three days of the session.

2. That the vote on concurring in bills amended by the Senate, or on adopting reports of committees of conference, shall not be taken until said bills and reports have been placed on the files of the members, and particularly referred to in their calendars; Provided, That this rule shall be suspended during the last three days of the session.

Rule XXII.—Of Secret Sessions.

1. On a motion being made and seconded to close the doors of the House on the discussion of any business which may, in the opinion of any member, require secrecy, the Speaker shall direct all, except the members, Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms, to withdraw, and during the discussion of said motion, and during the secret session, the doors shall remain shut, and every member and officer shall keep secret all such matters, proceedings and things whereof secrecy shall be enjoined by order of the House; and for divulging the same before the order of secrecy of the House be revoked, shall be subject to expulsion or dismissal, as the case may be.

Rule XXIII.—Of Committee of the Whole.

1. Upon the adoption of a motion to go into the committee of the whole House, the Speaker shall appoint the chairman thereof, who shall, for the time being, exercise all the powers of the Speaker necessary to the conduct of the business of the committee.

2. The rules of the House shall govern, as far as practicable, the proceedings of the committee, except that a member may speak more than twice on the same subject, that a call for the yeas and nays can not be made, nor can an appeal from the decision of the chair be taken.

3. A motion that the committee rise shall always be in order, and shall be decided without debate.

4. All bills shall be considered in committee of the whole; all amendments made therein shall be reported by the Chairman of the House, and shall by him be moved to be inserted, and if adopted, shall be entered in the journal. Every bill shall be read at length in committee of the whole (unless the committee decide to recommend that the enacting clause be stricken out); the Chairman shall so report, and entry thereof shall be made in the journal, and such reading shall be considered one of the readings required by the Constitution; but if any member shall request the reading of the bill at length, while on second reading, it shall be done.

Rule XXIV.—Of Messages.

1. Messages shall be sent to the Senate by the Chief Clerk, or Assistant Clerk, the Clerk having previously endorsed the final determination of the House thereon.

2. Messages from the Governor or the Senate may be received at any time, except while the House is dividing, or while the journal is being read, or while a question of order or a motion to adjourn is pending, but no such message shall be reported to the House, without unanimous consent, until the regular order is reached.

Rule XXV.—Of Resolutions.

1. Every order, resolution and vote to which the concurrence of both Houses may be necessary and require the approval of the Governor, are denominated Concurrent Orders and Resolutions, and shall be subject to the same rules and limitations, and shall take the same course as prescribed in case of bills.

2. All resolutions pertaining to the joint business of both Houses or the manner of its transaction shall be deemed joint resolutions, and shall be laid over one day, if objection be made; if no objection be made, may be considered immediately upon presentation.

Rule XXVI.—Of the Previous Question.

1. When there shall be a motion for the previous question, which being ordered by a majority of members present, if a quorum, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions on which it has been asked or ordered. The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions allowable under the rules, or an amendment or amendments, or may be made to embrace all authorized motions and amendments, and a motion to lay upon the table shall be in order on the second or third reading of the bill.

2. A call of the House shall not be in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it shall appear upon the actual count by the Speaker that a quorum is not present.

3. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

Rule XXVII.—Of Admission to the Floor.

1. No person, not a member or an officer of the House, other than the Judges of the Supreme and District Courts, the Governor, and elective State officers, with their chief deputies, the heads of State Institutions, members of the Congressional Delegation, members of the Senate, duly accredited reporters of the State Press, who are in attendance to report proceedings, ex-members of the General Assembly, and such other persons as may be invited by the Speaker or who shall hold cards of admission signed by a member, and counter-signed by the Speaker, shall be allowed to the floor of the House; and at no time, whether the House be in session or in recess, or after adjournment, or during the committee of the whole, shall the doorkeepers or any other officer of the House, permit any person other than those above specified, to enter upon the floor of the House, or any of the lobbies connected therewith, and in no event shall any person not a member or an employe, be permitted to enter the bill room, or obtain any printed bill therefrom, except on the production of a written request signed by a member of the House.

2. At no time, whether the House be in session or not, shall any employe of the House, or any person whomsoever, other than the Speaker or a member, be permitted to occupy the chair, or to use the desk of the Speaker, or that of any member.

3. The Sergeant-at-Arms, and the employes under his direction, will be held to a strict enforcement of this rule.

Rule XXVIII.—Of the Galleries.

1. All seats in the north gallery west of the center aisle shall be reserved for the use of relatives and guests of members, and all seats east of the center aisle in the north gallery shall be reserved for ladies and their escorts. The remaining galleries shall be for the use of the general public.

Rule XXIX.—Parliamentary Authority.

1. Roberts' Rules of Order shall govern the House in all cases in which it is not inconsistent with these rules and the joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Rule XXX.—Of Abrogation, Suspension or Amendment of the Rules.

1. No rule shall be suspended unless upon a two-thirds vote, nor abrogated or amended, unless one day's notice be given, except as otherwise provided in these rules, and upon a two-thirds vote of the members-elect.

Rule XXXI.—Lobbyists.

1. No lobbyist shall be permitted to enter the chamber of the House, or any cloak room connected therewith, either while the House is in session, or in recess, or before convening, or after adjournment, or during the Committee of the Whole, except as provided for above.

2. Any lobbyist desiring to appear before any committee of the House, shall apply to the Sergeant-at-Arms and signify his intention of registering as a lobbyist, whereupon the Sergeant-at-Arms shall conduct said person to the desk of the Chief Clerk of the House, where said person shall register in a book kept for that purpose, stating therein his name, address, and the bill or bills upon which he desires to be heard. The Chief Clerk shall thereupon issue a card to said person which will permit said person to appear before the committee or committees to which said bill or bills have been referred; Provided, however, that at any meeting of any committee of this House, the chairman thereof, or a majority of the committee, may permit any interested person to address the committee by furnishing the chairman of the committee with his name, address, together with the subject matter upon which he desires to be heard, and thereupon the chairman of the committee shall furnish the name, address and subject matter to the Chief Clerk of the House who shall enter it in the above described book, and shall issue a card to such person, if so desired.

3. A lobbyist is hereby defined to be any person who desires to influence, in any manner, the vote of any member of the House, or the action of any of its committees, upon any bill, measure, or resolution pending before the same.

Rules for Government of Employes of the House.

Chief Clerk's Department.

The department of Chief Clerk of the House includes the Assistant Clerk, Reading Clerk, Engrossing and Enrolling Clerks, and all other clerks and assistants required to conduct the clerical work of the House.

DUTIES.

Chief Clerk.

He has the care and custody of all papers, reports, bills and records, and arranges in its proper order, from day to day, after its inception, all the business of the House. He must, in order to have proper knowledge of the affairs of his department, appor-tion, systematize and personally supervise the labors of all his subordinates. The duties of his subordinates are properly his duties, as all are performed under his direction, and he is responsible for any deficiencies. He shall promptly, on the same day such orders are made, deliver to all committees, bills or other matters that are referred. He shall keep the pay accounts of all the Representatives and employes of the House, and issue his vouchers, signed by the Speaker, attested by himself. He shall keep a journal of each day's proceedings, and deliver the messages of the House of Representatives to the Senate, and sign all orders and directions of the House. He shall permit no records, bills, papers or reports to be taken out of his custody belonging to the House, otherwise than in the regular course of business, and shall report any missing papers to the attention of the Speaker, as well as derelictions of duty upon the part of his subordinates. He shall keep a record of all the officers and employes of the House, keep their pay accounts, and make all vouchers of same ready for the signature of the Speaker. He shall be responsible for the safe keeping of all bills and other documents in possession of the House, and is required, at the close of the session, to deposit all papers in his possession as Chief Clerk, properly classified and labeled, with the Secretary of State.

The Chief Clerk shall also cause the journal of the House to be printed after each day's session and disposed of in the following manner: One copy shall be placed on the desk of each Representative, and at least four extra copies shall be furnished to the Chief Clerk of the House before the opening of the next day's session. Before proceeding with any other business the journal shall be read, corrected and approved; after it has been approved, the Speaker of the House shall sign six copies as corrected and approved, and the Chief Clerk shall attest the same and immediately deposit one signed copy in the office of the Governor for safe keeping, and file two signed copies in the office of the Secretary of State, one signed copy in the office of the Attorney General, and the others shall be kept by the Chief Clerk for the use of the House. On the last day of the session, immediately preceding the hour fixed for final adjournment, the journal of the day shall be read, corrected and approved, and it shall be the duty of the Speaker and the Chief Clerk, within two days thereafter, to compare, correct and sign the printed copies of the journal for the last day and to deliver the same to the Governor, Secretary of State and the Attorney General.

The Chief Clerk shall prepare a time book, wherein he shall enter the names of all the employes of the House, and all employes of the House are required to report to said Chief Clerk before each session of the House, and shall not be excused from duty at any time or for any length of time, except upon report of said Chief Clerk and by consent of the members of the House.

Any employe of the House who is absent, without being excused by the House, shall not be entitled to pay for such time absent, and the Chief Clerk shall compute any such employe's time accordingly.

The Assistant Clerk.

His special duty shall be to keep a correct journal of each day's proceedings, under the supervision of the Chief Clerk, and shall perform such other services as may be required of him by the Chief Clerk, and in the absence of the Chief Clerk shall perform his duties generally.

The Docket Clerk.

It shall be his duty to keep the registry of all bills, resolutions, memorials, etc., and make the proper endorsement on same of all actions taken and proceedings had with regard to such papers, and when not otherwise occupied to help the Assistant Clerk in the performance of his duties.

The Reading Clerk.

It is his duty to read the journal, bills, reports of committees, papers, etc., that may be handed to him by the Chief Clerk; to act as clerk of the Committee of the Whole, and perform such other duties, when not engaged, as may be required of him by the Chief Clerk.

The Engrossing Clerk.

It shall be his special duty to engross all bills ordered to a third reading, which the rules require to be engrossed, properly placing all amendments adopted prior to the order for their engrossment. He shall engross all bills in the order that they are given him, and return the same to the chairman of the committee in like order; shall keep a record of all extra clerks engaged, and the time employed, and report the same to the Chief Clerk. By the direction of the Chief Clerk, he shall copy such other documents, journals, reports or papers as may be required for the use of the House.

The Enrolling Clerk.

It is his special duty to make clear, legible copies of all bills which have been concurred in by both branches of the General Assembly, without erasures or interlineations. He shall report to the Chief Clerk all persons engaged, and the time employed, and shall perform such other clerical duty as may be required.

General Regulations.

Each employe, when not occupied in the performance of his own special duties, is to render such assistance to the Chief Clerk and his assistants as may be in his power, or as the pressure of duties in a particular department may render necessary. The employes are expected to notify the Chief Clerk of any interference by others with their duties, and of all improper approaches or requests made to them by any person. They are not to exhibit to any person any bill or other documents in their possession without leave of the Chief Clerk. Perfect courtesy must at all times be maintained towards Representatives, associate employes, and all who have business to transact with the General Assembly.

Sergeant-at-Arms' Department

Consists of the Sergeant-at-Arms, Assistant Sergeants-at-Arms, Doorkeepers, Custodian of Blanks and Supplies, Messengers, Matron of the Women's Gallery, Janitors, Watchmen and Pages, and such other officers as may be required for the policing, protection and execution of the orders of the House.

Sergeant-at-Arms.

This officer is the executive officer of the House of Representatives, and to his charge is committed all police regulations. He shall see to the furnishing, warming, ventilating and lighting of the House and auxiliary rooms, serve the subpoenas and warrants of the House, announce messages from the Governor or Senate, receive from the Secretary of State necessary stationery, documents, etc., for the use of the House, and distribute the same to the Representatives and officers entitled thereto. He shall report all derelictions of duty on the part of his subordinates to the Speaker of the House. He is to organize his department with such system that each of his subordinates shall know his precise duties, and he is to see that each performs his duty promptly, thoroughly and courteously. He is required to keep the chamber open from 8 o'clock a. m. to 10 o'clock p. m. There shall be on duty in his department at all times, a Sergeant-at-Arms, Doorkeeper, Janitor and two Pages. He shall see that all printed matter received from the Public Printer is delivered to the Custodian of Bills and Supplies, and shall preserve order in the House and galleries.

The Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms

Shall aid and assist his principal generally in the discharge of his duties, and take his place when he is absent.

The Messengers

Shall deliver such messages as may be required of them by the Speaker and Chief Clerk, attend to the receipt and distribution of the mails in such a manner as the Sergeant-at-Arms may direct, and perform such other duties as may be required of them.

The Doorkeepers.

The Doorkeepers shall attend to the principal door, open and close it for the entry and exit of all persons entitled to seats inside of the bar of the House; shall relieve the Watchman from his duties at 7 o'clock a. m.; maintain order in the lobby; and see that visitors are seated, and that the regulations of the House in their department are strictly enforced.

The Janitors.

The Janitors shall attend to the cleaning of the rooms of the House at such hours as may be fixed by the Sergeant-at-Arms; see that the lighting and heating apparatus is in order; attend to the cloak rooms, and generally do all things required of them by the Sergeant-at-Arms. They shall leave no rubbish in or about the room that may cause destruction by fire, and shall have the House in order at 8 o'clock every morning.

The Custodian of Blanks and Supplies.

It shall be his duty to receive all blanks, and documents printed for the use of the House, and arrange them in a convenient manner or form for distribution by direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms and Chief Clerk. He shall allow no person not connected with the House to remove any blanks, bills or documents from his custody, and must be in attendance during all the sessions of the House.

The Watchman.

The Watchman shall report for duty to the Sergeant-at-Arms at 9 p. m. each night, and shall be placed in charge of the hall of the House of Representatives, and all auxiliary rooms, until 7 a. m. He shall see that all doors are fastened; that all lights are extinguished, not required by officers of the House, and that no person is admitted to the hall or rooms unless upon the order of the chief officer of the House; shall see that no papers, books or documents are removed except by known Representatives or officers; shall report all violations of the rules to the Sergeant-at-Arms.

The Duties of Pages.

To be in attendance from 8 o'clock a. m. to 9 o'clock p. m. every day, whether the House is in session or not; to receive from the Bill Clerk the printed bills, and arrange them on file of each Representative; distribute such documents, papers and mail matter as may come to the House, under the direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms; not to leave the House during the session, or absent themselves except upon duty or leave of the Sergeant-at-Arms; to take the positions assigned to them by the Chief Clerk, and, standing up so as to see and be seen, hold themselves in readiness to bring all bills, resolutions, etc., from the several Representatives to the Chief Clerk, when presented; to answer promptly any call, and render assistance to any Representative requiring it.

Joint Rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Rule 1—Each House shall transmit to the other all papers on which any bill or resolution shall be founded.

Rule 2—When a bill or resolution which shall have passed in one House shall be rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be given to the House in which the same may have passed.

Rule 3—Messages from one House to the other shall be communicated by the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House, unless the House transmitting the message shall specially direct otherwise.

Rule 4—It shall be in the power of either House to amend any amendment made by the other to any bill or resolution.

Rule 5—In any case of difference between the two Houses upon any subject of legislation, either House may request a conference and appoint a committee for that purpose, and the other House shall also appoint a committee to confer. The committee shall meet at such House and place as shall be appointed by the chairman of the committee on the part of the House requesting such conference. The conferees shall state to each other verbally, or in writing, as either shall choose, the reasons of their respective Houses, and confer fully thereon. The committee shall report in writing, and shall be authorized to report such modifications or amendments as they think advisable. But no committee on conference shall consider or report on any matters except those directly at issue between the two Houses. The papers shall be left with the conferees of the House assenting to such conference, and they present the report of the committee to their House. When such House shall have acted thereon, they shall transmit the same, and the papers relating thereto, to the other, with a message certifying its action thereon. Every report of a committee of conference shall be read through in each House before a vote is taken on the same.

Rule 6—It shall be in order for either House to recede from any subject matter of difference existing between the two Houses, at any time previous to conference, whether the papers on which such difference arose are before the House receding, formally or informally; and on such vote to recede, the same number shall be required to constitute a quorum to act thereon, and to assent to such a receding, as was required on the original question out of which the difference arose.

Rule 7—After each House shall have adhered to their disagreement, the bill which is the subject of difference shall be deemed lost, and shall not again be reviewed during the same session in either House.

Rule 8—All joint committees of the two Houses, and all committees of conference, shall consist of two Senators, and three members of Assembly, unless otherwise specially ordered by concurrent resolution.

Rule 9—There shall be printed, of course, and without order, two hundred and forty copies of all original bills reported by committees of either House.

Rule 10—When the same document shall by separate orders, be directed to be printed by both Houses, it shall be regarded as but one order, unless otherwise expressly directed by either House.

Rule 11—Bills shall be printed and distributed as follows:

To the Senate, eighty copies.

To the Assembly, one hundred and forty copies.

To the State Officers, fifteen copies.

To the State Library, one copy.

Retained to bind, four copies.

Joint Convention Rules.

Rule 1—Joint conventions shall be held in the hall of the House of Representatives, and the President of the Senate shall preside.

Rule 2—The Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House of Representatives shall be Secretaries of the joint convention, and the proceedings of the convention shall be published with the journals of the House, and the final result, as announced by the President on return of the Senate to their chamber, shall be entered on the journals of the Senate.

Rule 3—The rules of the House of Representatives, so far as the same may be applicable, shall govern the proceedings in joint convention.

Rule 4—Whenever a President pro tempore presides, he shall be entitled to vote upon all occasions, and in case of a tie the question shall be declared lost.

Rule 5—Joint conventions shall have the power to compel the attendance of absent members in the mode and under the penalties prescribed by the rules of the House to which such members respectively belong, and for that purpose the Sergeant-at-Arms of each House shall attend.

Rule 6—Joint conventions may adjourn from time to time, as may be found necessary; and it shall be the duty of the House of Representatives to prepare to receive the Senate, and the Senate to proceed to the hall of the House of Representatives at the time fixed by law or resolution, or to which the joint convention may have adjourned.
