Subject: Comments to help shape Colorado's Election Rules

Thank you for opportunity to submit comments on the proposed New Rule 2.10.4.

The comments below are submitted by La Plata County on behalf of the Co-Chairs of the Election Statute Review Committee of the Colorado County Clerk's Association. Due to the shortness of time to review the rule, the full participation of the committee did not occur.

Section A – “An Elector must consider the following factors in determining the Elector’s Primary Residence:” (remove County Clerk and Recorder)
County Clerk’s do not have the ability to check the outlined six determining factors. This rule seems to be putting counties in a bad place should challenges occur or for possible election contests.

Section B and C – The use of the word “permanent” seems too restrictive. Possibly use the word “indefinitely”.

Respectfully,

Tiffany L Parker
