If the only way Jenna and her cronies can win elections is to rig the election system, the maybe it is time to admit that they have lost any and all confidence among the citizens of Colorado.

The people of Colorado will work with our county officials to administer elections, we don't need heavy handed Jenna making up new tyrannical rules as she goes along.

I wholly object to any and all of the SOS's election rule making shenanigans. I stand for the God-given rights of the people to clean and fair elections.
